Jackfruit dumplings is a vegan, ready-to-eat, healthy meal. The product consists of a soy flour dough and a nutritious jackfruit filling. Young jackfruit is known as a good meat alternative because of its meat-like texture and neutral taste. The product is made from plant-based ingredients only and does not contain artificial additives. The product is pre-cooked, which makes it easy to prepare by the consumer at home (less than 5 minutes preparation time). The product is a good and healthy alternative to other pre-cooked meals, not only suitable for vegans, but also for busy and health-conscious people who want to have a meat-free, nutritious meal.
