

ICEOLATE. MEDIA FILE

Team Photo

Kyrylo Kostromieiev & Stanislava Kostromieieva — Team Iceolate

Product Photo

Iceolate packaging — AI-generated prototype visual (not final product)

Brochure Text

ICEOLATE

Re-ice yourself!

It started with 112 kilometres bike ride, Italian sun, and a following morning where I couldn't get out of bed. I forgot to replace what my body lost in sweat — electrolytes. As ice cream lover, I thought: why isn't recovery this good?

Iceolate is a frozen goat milk bar with a natural electrolyte blend and a good source of protein — designed for runners and cyclists who push their limits. Made from clean, natural ingredients: goat milk, honey, dark chocolate, and no artificial sweeteners.

Goat milk is kinder to your stomach and gentler on the planet. Our packaging is natural beeswax paper — compostable and plastic-free.

After a hard ride or run, you deserve something that actually tastes like a reward!

